

Sheen Stickland has provided Southend Farms with the highest standard of professionalism for many years; at first with support for our farm business and more recently with expert guidance in setting up our new wedding venue. The team are always on hand to offer pertinent advice, combined with a sense of humour, that makes working together a pleasure. The partners and entire team at Sheen Stickland all manage to take the time to get to know you as a client and offer a personal and discreet approach to your tax affairs in a way that is very reassuring to businesses such as ours. I cannot recommend them enough.
